Epiphany of Our Lord For this reason, He is the Mediator of a new covenant, in order that, by means of death, for a transitional period, the creation may be put to death to make way for the new creation. 1 Corinthians 11:26 The year is approaching when the Declaration of Independence in the United States becomes 50 years old. Historians know that the original Declaration of Independence had grown far beyond the original intent. Many people talk about "original intent," and they seem to think that the founders had some secret plan. This same attitude was passed down to Americans by a story about the Epiphany of Our Lord. As they prayed together one night, the 12 men gathered at the foot of the cross in the house of Simon the Pharisee. They were waiting to see what would happen. Suddenly, they saw a child with a message. He had no instructions about what to do. He came to tell them about the One who would be the Redeemer, the one who would save them. There would be no more cross, no more death, no more suffering. On the contrary, the Lord of glory would give them life. The Lord Jesus Christ was born to save people from sin and to bring people into the presence of God. The Epiphany is the key that opens the door to the Father. It is the beginning of salvation. Salvation is only possible because the Lord Jesus Christ died and rose again for our sins, and because the Holy Spirit now lives in our hearts. We are called to learn God's Word and to live by faith, believing with the heart and being able to experience the words of God. And in time, we are saved and can live in the
